

17,000 visitors saw Siberia Souls

Siberia Souls: Nakutis (details). Color changing LED light sculpture by Audrius Plioplys

Siberia Souls was showcased at ArtPrize, in Grand Rapids, Michigan. This is the largest competitive art exhibit in the world. Siberia Souls was shown at Fountain Street Church in downtown Grand Rapids, in September and October 2016. The exhibit was arranged and sponsored by the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU).

During this three-week exhibit, a total of 17,000 visitors saw Siberia Souls! The turnout was, to say the least, stunning!

The timing was incredible—immediately preceding the US presidential election. The purpose of Siberia Souls was to remind the general public that demagoguery and inhumanity, on a mass scale, can take place here, in the US. Indeed, the results of this election have led to the serious consideration of mass apprehension and deportation. Hitler and Stalin are being resurrected.

Siberia Souls is a prophetic exhibit.
